DESERTION IS MADE EASY

How Men Get Away From the American Naval Vessels.

"There is only one time that the boys of the army and navy pull together," said a landsman of the Mohican last night, "and that's when some fellow on a naval vessel wants to get away from his ship. Why, a lot of fellows of United States ships have been successful in deserting here through assistance given them by soldiers from Camp McKinley."

Some soldiers and men from the Mohican were talking of the desertion of four of the complement of the United States training ship and of their success in so far as eluding capture, although rewards are out for their arrest.

The soldiers stated that on the occasion of a former visit of the Mohican to Honolulu a number of the lads appeared in a town bar one night declaring that they hated life aboard ship and wished to get away. Some soldiers took them out to Camp McKinley and the whole camp was roused up and everyone put on the job of finding civilian clothing for the lads. The soldiers willingly handed this over and the men from the Mohican got right down to business and found jobs and succeeded in keeping clear of the naval officers. Some of these fellows are in Honolulu now and hold good jobs in business houses.

Thus desertion is made easy for the sailor and it is asserted by Mohican men that the four deserters on this visit went through the usual channel and are now leading about the streets, being fed by the soldiers.
